PHYSICIAN TELLS SOROSIS MEMBERS OF VITAMINS SOURCE

Dr. G. Mackmull, Langhorne, Says Baking Soda Destroys All Vitamins in Cooking

ANNOUNCE CONVENTION

Name Delegates To County and State Federation Meetings This Spring

LANGHORNE, Apr. 4.—Dr. G. Mackmull, a local physician, in speaking of vitamins before members of the Langhorne Sorosis yesterday afternoon, informed that vitamins are chemicals, and proceeded to tell of sources of vitamins A, B, C, and D.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Harry Williams, chairman of the welfare committee of the local women's club.

Dr. Mackmull, speaking in the local library stressed the need of being health conscious, and asked his listeners to "have an intelligent approach to the subject of vitamins." He stressed the daily use of foods containing vitamins, so that good health might be promoted. A deficiency of vitamin A causes eye disease, especially in warm climates, he stated. He added that many motorists afflicted with light blindness are deficient in that vitamin. Such vegetables as dandelion greens, chard, spinach, and carrots are high in vitamin A content. He told that one apricot has as much of this vitamin as 20 apples, and it is also found in butter, cheese, eggs. Butter loses some of it in cooking however, and all of the vitamin in frying. "Quick freezing of foods causes very little of the vitamin to be lost," he also informed. Vitamin A is to be found in halibut and cod liver oil.

Vitamin B was spoken of as being a combination of vitamins, and supply of it for the body must be replenished each day through the diet. "It is elevating to those who are fatigued, and its source is through raw green leafy vegetables, beans, asparagus, broccoli, nuts, etc. The vegetables should be cooked quickly so they do not lose the precious vitamins."

That vitamin C is a preventive of scurvy was one thing spoken of, with lemon and lime juice being high in content of such. This vitamin also prevents tooth decay, and aids in healing wounds the physician stated. Its source is also in orange and tomato juice, although not so high in the latter as in oranges. It is to be found in potatoes, especially in raw potatoes. Some is lost in cooking, and all if the potatoes are fried. Grass, watercress and cabbage are also good sources for vitamin C, Dr. Mackmull informed.

One point brought out by the physician was that cooking foods with soda destroys all vitamins. He added that "No food contains sufficient vitamin D to prevent rickets. Sufficient vitamins to prevent rickets must be procured additionally through the rays of the sun or in concentrated form, such as

The Circus Train

(By "The Stroller")

Now we know that Spring has arrived.

Yesterday, the circus train of Barnum & Bailey went through here and halted just for a minute on signal. While standing here a group of the employees jumped from their car at the rear to run to a car further along the line and came near meeting with tragedy as a fast train rounded the curve east of Bristol. The engineer certainly "laid" on his whistle. The men scampered beneath their own train, seeking safety.

The train was done in silver and surely did look nice. There were about 100 cars.

U. S. Rejects Demands For Release of Crews

Washington, Apr. 4.—The U. S. Government today flatly rejected all demands made by the German and Italian Embassies for the release of 30 Axis ships and their crews seized in American waters following the attempts to sabotage the vessels.

In rejecting the demands, the American Government expressed "surprise" at their extreme nature and asserted that "no civilized nation" would have tolerated the attempted sabotage of foreign vessels in their ports.

Three Axis demands have been made for immediate release of the ships, freedom of the crews and permission for them to return to their vessels. The American notes refusing the demands were delivered to the German and Italian Embassies last night.

The only concession made by the American Government was an expressed willingness to inquire into the alleged mistreatment of the crews. A protest against the treatment of the crews was contained in a second note delivered to the State Department by the German and Italian Embassies, which asserted this government had no right to imprison the men and complained against the treatment of them in prison. The State Department promised to send another note to the Embassies concerning these charges.

Rejection of the Italo-German demands was based on the grounds that the captains and crews of the vessels had violated American domestic laws by wrecking the machinery of their vessels, and this violation gave the American Government the right to remove the crews and take over control of the ships.

Meanwhile, American officials awaited with keen interest the reaction of the Italian Government to Secretary of State Hull's request for the immediate recall of the Italian Naval Attache in Washington, Admiral Alberto Lais, on the grounds that he issued the orders for the wrecking of machinery in the 28 Italian vessels which were seized.

Ambassador Colonna was awaiting instructions from Rome as to what course he should pursue in view of this government's drastic action in not only refusing to release the ships and their crews, but in requesting the recall of Admiral Lais.

CADET BOOSTERS APPEAL FOR MEMBERS

Urge Residents Here To Join In Supporting This Fine Youth Organization

DUES ARE $1 PER YEAR

Are you a cadet booster; do you say "don't they look fine" when the American Legion Cadets parade by?

Well! Such praise is excellent and well deserved by the cadets but those kind words will not pay expenses. Money is needed as well as words of praise.

The Cadet Boosters Association is appealing for new members and a renewal of membership by those who are now affiliated with the Boosters Association.

The membership fee is one dollar per year and the money is used to aid the cadets.

The Cadet Corps, sponsored and directed by Bracken Post of the American Legion, has grown to such an extent that it is now utterly impossible for the Legion to bear the entire burden of cost of operation.

This organization has represented Bristol on many occasions and has always made a grand showing. None of the officers, from the commander of the Cadet Corps on down receive a single penny for their work. The Corps is one of a very few musical organizations that has been able to hold together for any length of time. This has been made possible only through the unselfish sacrifice of time and effort of those individuals who realize the invaluable benefits derived by the Cadets through the medium of the Corps.

There has been a Cadet Boosters Association for a number of years. The members of this organization have raised funds with which to send the Corps away at various times, funds to maintain the cleanliness and repair of uniforms and equipment, etc. Membership in this organization is open to you and will unfold many opportunities for participation in highly remunerative investment in the future citizens of this community.

Here and There in Bucks County Towns

A meeting of the elementary head teachers of Bucks County public schools is to be held in the county education building, Doylestown, on Wednesday next, at four o'clock. Dr. Cecilia Stuart, elementary education advisor of the Department of Public Instruction, will conduct a discussion on reading.

Eye-sight is being recovered by Keith Drumheller, 20, of Telford, following an injury in a motor accident in which it was feared he might lose his vision.

The young man can now see nearby objects, and specialists are of the opinion that he will regain his sight, although the process will be a slow one, they state.

The accident occurred when Drumheller was enroute back to Fort Bragg, N. C., where he had served seven months as an enlisted man in the U. S. Army.

WILL ENFORCE DOG LAW IN THIS AREA

Officers To Tour Entire Area In Lower Bucks County Next Week

GIVE FINAL WARNING

If you have a dog which is not licensed it is going to be just too bad for that dog next week. This is according to William Anderson, in charge of Dog Law Enforcement for Bucks and Montgomery counties.

"We are coming into Bristol Borough, Bristol Township, Bensalem Township and Tullytown Borough and Morrisville Borough and other districts to strictly enforce the law. We are giving the dog owners sufficient notice and if their dogs are caught they will have no one to blame but themselves."

Daniel Potter, deputy game warden, Newportville, will assist the officers who have been assigned to this campaign by the State.

The entire area is being posted so as to give everybody ample warning. These signs read:

Dog Owners Attention!
Do not neglect to have your dog licensed.

Licenses should be procured on or before January 15th each year.

Dogs becoming six months of age at any time must be licensed at once.

Licenses expire January 15th each year.

Licenses can be procured by making application to County Treasurer direct or through a notary public, justice of the peace, alderman or magistrate.

Application for spayed female license must be supported by owner's affidavit or certificate from a veterinarian.

Licenses tags must be affixed to a substantial collar and kept on dog at all times.

Licenses tag issued for one dog cannot be used on another.

Owners are responsible for all damage caused by their dogs.

The word "Owner" when applied to proprietorship of a dog shall include every person having a right of property in such dog, and every person who keeps or harbors such dog or has it in his care, and every person who permits such dog to remain on or about any premises occupied by him.

The purpose of the "dog law" is for the protection of the public and their property through the proper control of dogs and for the protection of the properly licensed and tagged dog.

The proper control of your dog will also help protect and preserve the wild life of the State and will assist the Game Commission to keep the State

Interest in the attendance contest in progress at Richland Grange continues as the men and women strive to have the largest attendance at the meetings. The meeting this week gave the women a substantial lead over the men. Forty-four women and 32 men were in attendance.

The program was presented by the members celebrating birthday anniversaries in March, and it consisted principally of musical numbers.

One of the interesting features was a play, "Don't Mention Pigs," in which Mrs. Catherine Stevenback and the Misses Amanda Hillpot and Elda Benner, all members of the Grange, and Miss Rebecca Horne, Richlandtown, a guest, took part.

Safety on the highways was the subject taken into consideration at the meeting of the Kellers Church Grange on Tuesday evening.

Milton Hilmer had been asked to discuss the subject, "Some things the Grange can do to reduce the number of automobile accidents." As an organization, said Mr. Hilmer, the Grange can do nothing toward reducing the number of accidents, but its members, he stated, can work in the interest of highway safety. He stated that many accidents are caused by carelessness and driving too rapidly. He also commented upon the large number of persons killed and injured annually as the result of automobile accidents.

Officers responded to roll call by giving rules for safety.

One Hundred and Fifty Chicks Lost in Brooder Fire

One hundred and fifty chicks were roasted to death this morning when fire damaged the chicken house of Sebastiane Nucel, Bristol Township. The chicken house is located on Old Rodgers Road.

Mr. Nucel said that he arose at five o'clock this morning and went to look at his chicks. He thought that they were cold and so he advanced the heat furnished for an oil brooder.

It was shortly after seven o'clock when the fire was discovered and word telephoned to the Bristol Consolidated Fire Department by a neighbor.

Chief Clifford Hagermann and two pieces of apparatus responded and the brooder apparatus was put into service.

MEASLES EPIDEMIC APPEARS TO BE ABATING

Only 29 Cases Are at Present Under Quarantine Here

166 CASES IN 3 MONTHS

The epidemic of measles which has been sweeping Bristol for the past two months appears to be abating. It was reported to the Health Board last night. At the present time there are 29 cases under quarantine. During the past month 99 cases were reported. In January there were 14 cases; February, 62 cases; but the actual number now under quarantine is 29.

There are also now 22 cases of chicken-pox, and 28 scarlet fever cases still under quarantine.

During the month there were four cases of mumps, one German measles, one diphtheria, reported.

The health officer, James H. Brooks, reported having received 32 health certificates, two of which were renewals.

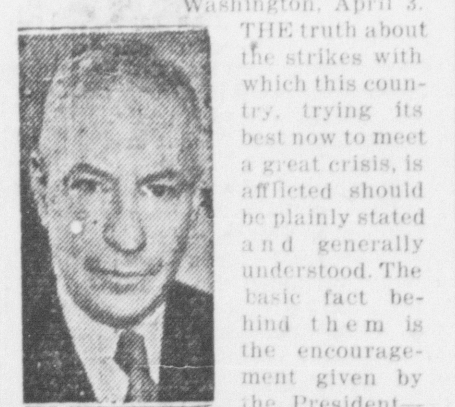

The usual inspection of dairies was made and conditions found to be satisfactory.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT
"Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc."

Responsibility

Washington, April 3. THE truth about the strikes with which this country, trying its best now to meet a great crisis, is afflicted should be plainly stated and generally understood. The basic fact behind them is the encouragement given by the President—and the President's wife. Under the circumstances, it is not surprising they have become epidemic.

—o—

WITH every desire to support Mr. Roosevelt in his foreign policy, which is right, and in his defense program, which is vital, it is difficult to see how anyone who fully grasps the facts, and whose mind is not wholly closed, can support his labor policy, which is wholly one-sided. That tends to frustrate and nullify his other efforts, and it is an astounding thing that, in the face of an emergency so grave, he should persist in it.

—o—

TAKE the record from the start of the defense effort. In his first speech to the nation on the subject the President emphatically rejected the suggestion that there should be any relaxing or modification in the New Deal labor laws, which clearly stand in the way of speed. In another early utterance he declared that there must be "no backward step" so far as "social gains" are concerned and no relinquishing by labor of its rights, though he insisted that everybody would have to make "sacrifices." He emphasized this labor-favoring attitude in the defense setup by balancing every industrialist with a paid professional labor leader upon whom he conferred "coequal power." This "balanced-board" procedure in itself negates the idea of unity

350 Young People Attend Rally; Rev. Jones Speaks

More than 350 young people, comprising the Northeast Baptist Young People's Group, gathered in Calvary Baptist Church, last evening for a rally, the evening theme being based on the thought of the Easter season "He is Risen."

The Rev. Russell Jones, pastor of Wayland Memorial Baptist Church, Philadelphia, was the speaker for the occasion, and he also dwelt upon the theme "He is Risen." The Rev. Mr. Jones stated that the resurrection of Christ attested to the deity of Christ, and affirms His atonement.

The president of the Northeast Group, Warren Lightcap, Holmesburg, announced future plans for the organization, including a similar rally to be held in Wissinoming Baptist Church on Thursday evening, May 1st.

John Tomlinson, president of the Calvary Baptist young people's group, presided; with Jackson Bauer leading the song service. Music was provided by a large orchestra composed of the young folks; and vocal solo by Miss Ballbach, Philadelphia. The Scripture lesson was read by Miss Castor of Philadelphia.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED BY EXCHANGE "WHIZ KIDS"

Intra-Club Program Conducted By Edward Fleming; Prize To David Sheerer

PURCHASE EYE-GLASSES

The Bristol Exchange Club met last evening in the Elks Home with 21 members present. Horace Schmidt presided. The meeting was devoted to business and an intra-club program, conducted by Edward Fleming.

Warren P. Snyder reported for the glasses fund committee, and announced that 12 cases had been taken care of in the last month among school children.

It was decided that the club will award three prizes of $5 to the music clubs of Bristol high school to be awarded at commencement time.

Following the meeting Mr. Fleming conducted the intra-club program entitled, "The Exchange Club Whiz Kids." Every member was called before the club and asked to draw a slip of paper, which required an answer on current topics, club objectives, community problems and some of a humorous nature.

Some questions brought forth apt responses, such as "Shall we convoy ships to Britain?" "Franklin said, 'there was never a just war or a bad peace.'" The last drawn by Mr. Snyder brought forth an interesting controversy among the members. Another which drew forth positive comments were, "Should labor strikes be tolerated at the present time?" Among the humorous questions aptly answered by Arnold Barea was "Discuss the Advantages of being able to speak extempore" or "Join the Adult School." It met with the ready response, "I'll join the Adult School."

The prize offered by Mr. Fleming for the best response to the question asked of the members was won by David Sheerer, who drew the question, "What is a jitterbug?"

Committee Named To Make H. S. Operetta A Success

Dancing chorus and makeup committee consists of Mrs. Horace Royer, Miss Marion Harrison, Miss Margaret Neill, Mrs. Edward Kupiec, and Thomas Campton. Scenery and lighting is to be taken care of by Lester Michael, head of the industrial arts department of the high school.

The costumes and property committee consists of the Misses Ruth Wagner, Marion E. Peck, Madeline Kennedy, Virginia Hamilton; Messrs. Howard Gushard and Charles Utz.

Mill Street Business Men Take Initiative To Improve Condition

Heads of Industries Here With Defense Orders Cite Need For Homes

A community-wide meeting sponsored by the Mill Street Business Men's Association, will be held within the next few days for the purpose of discussing and considering appropriate action on the "serious housing shortage which is now facing Bristol" as a result of the expansion of local manufacturing plants holding defense contracts.

This decision was made last evening when members of the Association held their regular monthly meeting at the "Cocordas" Restaurant. Approximately thirty members and guests were in attendance.

The decision to call a general community meeting of everyone interested crystallizes preliminary investigations conducted by the Association revealing the shortage of houses and apartments in Bristol as becoming acute.

Complete details as to the time and place of this general meeting, to which everyone interested is invited, will be announced within the next day or two.

The Association learned last evening from a committee that has been investigating the problem for the last few days that the heads of local manufacturing plants and personnel officers of these plants are much concerned over the condition.

The committee learned that one local plant with large defense orders has a list of the names of 300 of its employees who have requested aid in finding suitable houses for their families.

Bucks County Woman Claims She Was Defrauded of $474

One of the several individuals charging fraud against Robert J. Hewitt, Frankford real estate dealer, is a Bucks County woman, Mrs. Wilberta M. Hunter, of Perkasie R. D., who claims she has been defrauded of $474 in rentals from the estates of her mother and grandmother.

Hewitt is pleading guilty in Philadelphia courts to speculations totalling $77,000.

Mrs. Hunter was one of ten persons called to testify against Hewitt in the city courts, after his guilty plea had been received.

Hewitt told Judge Joseph Sloane, before whom he appeared in Philadelphia, that he had taken out life insurance totaling $65,000, for the protection of his clients. Since the policies will not mature until Hewitt's death, it is understood that the creditors are planning to pay the premiums to protect themselves.

There are 14 bills of indictment to which the defendant pleaded. His method, the court was informed, was to take his clients' money and pretend to invest it in first mortgages. He even sent them statements of imaginary profits, and sometimes sent them back some of their own money as "interest." Clients were even billed for fire insurance on properties they thought they owned.

Hewitt said that he began his fraudulent activities after he had lost money in the stock market and in Wildwood, N. J., real estate transactions.

Pork Shoulder Steaks Are Thrifty Buy For Homemaker

It's a smart homemaker who gets up on her toes these days and looks market-wise. One of the most worthwhile buys she'll notice right away is pork shoulder steaks—not only delicious, but thrifty, too. They look mighty good when served, nicely browned and garnished with glazed apple slices topped with a ball of bright red cranberries.

Pork shoulder steaks are, logically enough, cut from the shoulder of pork. Mrs. S. Willson, home economist, gives several ways to identify this attractive cut of meat. She points out that the bones in pork shoulder steaks may be in two shapes.

The long narrow bone is found when the steaks are cut from the side nearest the ribs, while the round bone is found when the steaks are cut from the "arm side" of the shoulder. The steaks are oval at one end and rather squared at the other.

Pork shoulder steaks are sometimes called pork shoulder chops. They are juicy and both tender and delicious when properly cooked. Braising is the best method for cooking.

Braised Pork Shoulder Steaks
Season steaks with salt and pepper; dredge with flour if desired. Brown on all sides in hot fat. The fat may be that which melts out of the meat or it may be added.

When the steaks are well browned, cover and let cook slowly until done. This will take about 45 minutes for steaks three-quarters inch thick. It may be necessary to add a small amount of water to the steaks, depending upon the amount of fat in the meat.

Variety in Shoulder Steaks
A cup of tomatoes seasoned with a teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and several onion slices added to the steaks after they're browned and before they're covered, adds variety in the Spanish fashion.

Pork shoulder steaks are but one of many examples of meats that are adapted to fit a tight-laced budget. There is actually a cut of meat to fit every purse. Scout around in your market the next time you make a visit and treat yourself to economy.

Little Progress in Ford Strike

Detroit, Apr. 4—This was the day Michigan feared. Troops had been asked, charges had been made of guns and men smuggled into the sprawling Ford plant at Dearborn, the United Automobile Workers Union smarted under the judicial lash or court restraint and even the grey skies were foreboding.

This morning the UAW moved to set aside the restraining order signed last night by Federal Judge Tuttle but because Van Wagoner insisted sternly: "The cause the Union came to court with UAW-CIO and the Ford Company have oral arguments rather than a written petition, the Court refused to entertain the protest. Meanwhile the order which restrains the union from interfering with the Ford Company or any of its employees will stand, as issued, for a period of five days.

Peace looked far away as Governor Van Wagoner insisted sternly: "The cause the Union came to court with UAW-CIO and the Ford Company have agreed to mediate and I expect and I insist that they keep their agreement to end this strike."

In another development, Harry Bennett, Ford personnel manager, announced that the company would not reopen its plant until "this problem is entirely settled." By "this problem" it was understood he meant the present labor dispute.

Why buy a small car when Pontiac prices begin at

Wouldn't you buy a fine big car instead of a small one if you knew you could afford it? Then listen to this: Pontiac "Torpedo" prices are only slightly higher than those of the well-known small cars. And owners say that Pontiac operating costs rival the lowest. Why buy a small car when you can own a Pontiac "Torpedo"?

The Great Game of Politics

and stressed controversy instead of co-operation.

NOR was the situation improved when, weeks ago, with members of his own Defense Commission appalled at the delay caused by the strikes, Mr. Roosevelt at a press conference asserted that their number and importance were exaggerated by the newspapers. This came just after Mrs. Roosevelt's open encouragement, by her presence and speech, of a strike in Brooklyn. Addressing the strikers, she criticized employers and voiced approval of the strike. Last Tuesday, at her press conference, in a modified way she reiterated this attitude. She then advised the public not to become "overly excited" about the labor situation. "After all," she said, "the country is not at war and people ought not to behave as though a strike problem were a case of patriotism." On Wednesday she made what was taken as another pro-strike utterance.

IS there any wonder, with the President and Mrs. Roosevelt making it so plain that this is a labor Government and that their sympathies are with the strikers, that the paid labor leaders have seized the opportunity presented by the war crisis to promote their demands for the closed shop and other goals which make for complete labor domination? At any rate, there shouldn't be any surprise. When the strikes grew too menacing longer to be dismissed as trivial and the public began to be aroused, the President named a special mediation board to deal with the problem. But he "balanced"—in fact, over-balanced—that board by putting on it four of the most conspicuous of the paid labor leaders, whose business it is to promote strikes and some of whom are actively directing the strikes they are supposed to mediate.

NOW that the strikes have reached a stage of such violence that Congress is on the verge of action, Mr. Roosevelt is reported as contemplating a "firmer stand." Whether he acts or whether Congress acts, whether it is the plants which are taken over or the labor leaders who are forced to yield, there is no escape from the fact that for the present intolerable situation and the costly delay that has occurred the primary responsibility rests upon Mr. Roosevelt.

HIS attitude and his words—and the attitude and words of his wife—have been an undoubted encouragement to strikers and have contributed greatly to a state of affairs which has slowed down the whole defense program and cost millions of precious man hours of work. It would be a fine thing to see the President throw off his labor obligations, rid himself of his labor bias and the fear of labor leaders bleating that he has "betrayed" them, deal with this situation courageously and determinedly, with an eye only for speed in production. He has said that all other considerations should be swept aside. But he himself does not sweep them aside. So long as he shrinks from the kind of action which he must know the occasion demands, his appeals for nonpartisan, patriotic support will have a hollow sound.

will become more acute in the next few months.

Reports from the committee indicated that local plants are willing to co-operate in any plan that will alleviate the present situation, but all urged that immediate action is essential. One unconfirmed report indicated that the government may step into the picture if the situation is not eased by other methods.

A well-known Eddington realtor, Richard W. Fechtenburg, was a guest at the meeting. Mr. Fechtenburg, who is vice-president of the Bucks County Real Estate Board, spoke briefly to the members present. He declared that the Bucks County Real Estate Board is rapidly becoming the outstanding trade organization of Bucks County, with a very representative membership. He invited all members of the Association to attend a meeting of the Board next Wednesday evening at eight o'clock at the Fountain House, Doylestown, at which time a special FHA program will be presented.

William P. Carson, of the Philadelphia FHA office, will show pictures on how an FHA loan is granted and made. A committee, consisting of Edward Lynn and Marty Green volunteered to attend the meeting in Doylestown.

Mr. Fechtenburg also mentioned the new addition to the FHA program, known as "Title Six." This was signed by the President on Wednesday, and opens a new field in building, since it deals with the guaranteeing of mortgages for rentals and not for selling. It will mean that private capital can be invested on homes that are planned to be rented.

One new member was welcomed into the Association last evening in the person of S. Friedman, proprietor of the Barton store, 411 Mill street. President Edgar Spencer was in charge of the meeting.

I. Louis Rubin, Esq., reporting as chairman of the By-Laws committee, stated that a tentative draft has been completed and will be presented at the next meeting of the organization. Wesley Spencer, chairman of the Parking Lot Committee, stated that his committee will meet Monday evening for the purpose of determining ways and means to improve the parking lot at the rear of Mill street.

"We hope to be able to start a program for the general improvement of this fine area," Mr. Spencer declared. "We would include in that program the grading, increased lighting, enlargement of the area proper, and the general attractiveness of this section, which is the largest parking area in the community."

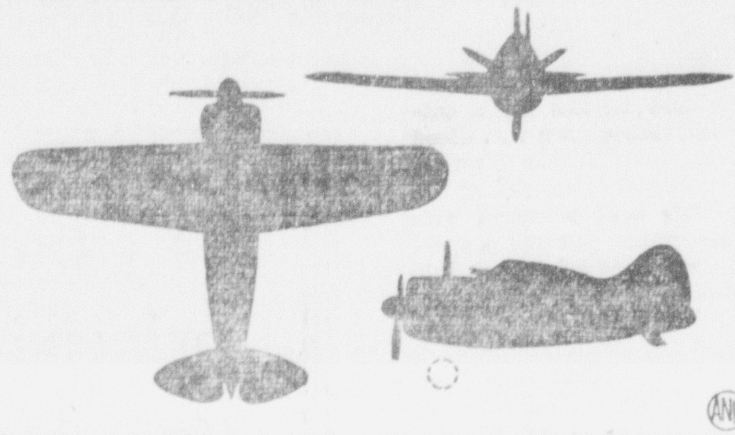

The Promotion Committee reported that the next major sales event is scheduled for May 23rd. The co-operation of every member was urged for this promotion.

BREWSTER FIGHTER

Here is shown another of those speedy, formidable combat airplanes which United States manufacturers are building for national defense—the Brewster Eagle-seater naval shipboard fighter, designated the F2A-2 by the Navy. Heavily armed, the F2A-2 carries two machine guns in the engine cowling with two machine guns or shell-firing guns in the wings. Abroad, the British RAF has installed six machine guns. These fast fighting aircraft are designed primarily to operate from shipboard for reconnaissance and combat purposes. Note the "teardrop" design, rounded nose and sloping lines which suggest speedy air performance.

Defenders Like These Papers, Army Men Say

Nothing makes a selective service man in camp happier than a letter from home or a home-town newspaper in the daily mail, army officials said recently after an extensive survey.

Next in order, the selective service youth likes sweets such as candy, cookies and chocolates—and chewing gum!

Officers say that on the march the gum helps keep the boys from drinking too much water and from dipping into their lunch ration.

Other offerings which bring a smile of pleasure to the enrollee include a general repertoire of utilities among which are books of stamps, flashlights, a towel now and then, toilet articles, and reading materials.

Officers say that if relatives want to be sure their addressee gets what's mailed to him, they should address the letter or package in this way: Name first, his company or battery second, his regiment third, and, lastly the name of the post office.

"Design For Living For American Youth" Considered

The national director of Junior Counsellors, Mrs. Elizabeth L. O'Neill, visited Doylestown on Tuesday afternoon, speaking before members of the Village Improvement Association at the home of Mrs. Wesley Bunting.

"A Design for Living for American Youth" was the subject which she spoke upon with great enthusiasm. She said it is generally recognized that young people want to be educated for the democratic way of living and need guidance to enable them to have a "better understanding of human relationships, yardsticks to measure right and wrong, and how to meet the many adjustments of life." Junior Counsellors are attempting to fill this need and, while much is done in this line in the schools, they feel there is a definite gap between their formal education and their social adjustment.

"The Bethlehem Plan" was started about 12 years ago and was designed to reach a majority of teen age girls. After five years of guidance work and of talking with girls all over the country, a definite program has been established to help every girl to learn the art of successful living, no matter what her lot in life may be. The three-year program is divided into a junior group in which social and educational problems, good health, personality and friendly relations are presented in the form of dramatic skits in a humorous but sincere approach by the girls, coached by an advisory committee.

The senior group program includes physical and mental development, as relating to the family, the factors that bring success to any job, and attempts to point out a philosophy of living. Wholesome recreation is another feature which, in Bethlehem, is provided in the form of monthly dances, attended by about 600 young people at a very small admission price.

The success of the Bethlehem Plan spread throughout the country and groups have been started in 18 states under the name of "Junior Counsellors."

Today's Quiet Moment

(By Howard L. Zepp, Th. M.)

Divine Friend, today we would test our lives by Thine. We live in a gilded, self-sufficient age, when it is easier for us to put our trust in the seen than the unseen. We would be honest enough not to make the failures of others the standard by which we measure our successes. Humbled by Thy greatness and Thy goodness, we would steadfastly seek "to attain unto the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ." Amen.

ON THE SCREENS

GRAND THEATRE

The most exciting account of the Navy's work in wartime yet seen on the screen is being shown at the Grand Theatre today.

It is the Michael Balcon production "Convoy" and gives the man in the street the inside views of achievements which normally are but newspaper or wireless announcements.

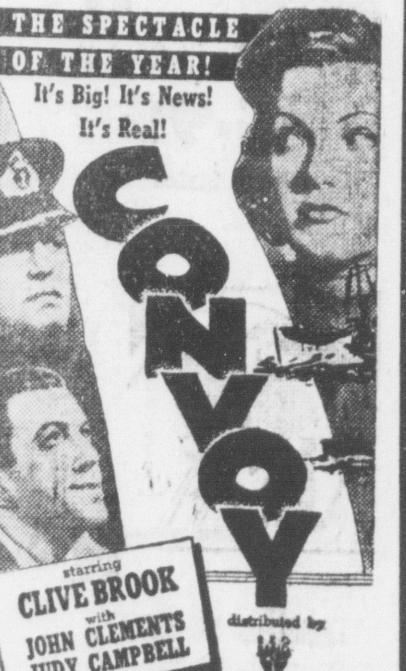

"Convoy" should not be thought of in terms of war, for it is grand entertainment in which strong drama is equally blended with a wealth of delightful comedy and a fine domestic story.

The film presents with compelling conviction a superb panorama of naval affairs, including protection to unarmed vessels of neutral nations, the sinking of an enemy submarine, the grand work done by a solitary British seaplane and the fearless engagement of a German battleship by a lone British destroyer.

John Wayne, one of the outstanding young leading men in motion pictures, plays opposite Miss Dietrich in this romance of the South Seas, and together they head an imposing cast that includes Albert Dekker, Broderick Crawford, Mischa Auer, Billy Gilbert, Anna Lee, Samuel S. Hinds and Oscar Homolka.

The gun-blazing melodramatics of the old west are brought to flaming life on the Bristol Theatre screen today by two-fisted Charles Starrett.

RITZ THEATRE

In "Santa Fe Trail," which opens today at the Ritz Theatre, Errol Flynn plays J. E. B. Stuart, the fiery Virginian who fought with glory for the South in the Civil War.

Van Heflin is Rader, a Northern-sympathizing renegade if ever there was one. Their battle, which results in Heflin being dishonorably discharged from West Point, is over the slavery question.

Faith Clarke's SHOPPING TIPS FOR BUDGETEERS

(You and yours each owe yourselves at least one new thing for Easter! So thinks our knowing shopper, Faith Clarke, and so, below, tempts you with several.)

Those of you smaller women and girls who prefer an Easter topcoat to a suit, trip right along to Snellenburg's 2nd fl. Junior Miss Coat Dept. You will find a swank group of latest better coats, sizes 9 to 17. Prices range from $16.95 to $39.95 for models without fur. Especially intriguing is one style, a navy refter (in black, too) of beautiful material, expertly gored for smooth fitting, skirt slightly flared. Nice model for small figure, young or older. Distinctive buttons give added new touch. Lovely lining. Entire group well selected.

There's a heap of Easter shopping going on, but you can find wonderful town parking at what is known as the "handsomest garage in the world." At a very special low price, too, if you present a Snellenburg sales check. I'm referring to the brand new Stephen Girard Covered, with entrance on little covered Clover St., just outside of Snellenburg's own Clover St. entrance. An attendant takes your car, you pay later, with sales check and but 25c for 2 hours or less, and upward. Purchases can be delivered to Clover St. door.

Easter frocks for women wearing sizes 38 to 52 or 18 1/2 to 24 1/2—darlings—are to be had at an amazingly low price in Snellenburg's 2nd fl. Women's Dress Dept. They have that $10 to $16 look and yet they are—guess—but $6.95. Seemingly believing. All new models with this spring's obvious difference in line and materials. See all of them but note the purples. They bowled me over. Promptly I sent one to a soul needing rejuvenating—a wood violet rayon crepe with four frilled pockets in the right places! Many other lovely models. Hurry!

Marionettes, under the direction of the famous Marion Bishop—exhibitor at the New York World's Fair and throughout the country—will be starred in Snellenburg's 3rd fl. Auditorium, April 7th to 15th. Young and old adore these new, streamlined player folks, so life-like in action they seem to breathe. Eighteen inches tall, they are activated from an especially large 14 ft. bridge, against full-sized scenery. Three performances daily—11:30, 2, and 3:30; also 7:30 Wednesday. Delightful opportunity.

A girl 7 to 14 must have an Easter dress to be happy. Beautiful rayon dresses, with lines and touches of the more expensive type, can be had in Snellenburg's Girls' Dept. (2nd fl.) for only $3.95. They appear worth $5 at least. There are crisp taffetas, soft crepes, etc. The styles vary from the definitely "little girl types" to models with that young ladyish dash that delights younger sisters who can't wait to grow up. New styles are pouring into this good dept. daily. Better take that youngster to town. What say, Mother?

Whether it's a new or old suit, my dears, you plan to step out in, do have a fresh and lovely Easter blouse. The Sports Shop, Snellenburg's 2nd fl., makes a hobby of the right blouses for the woman who must be correctly dressed. See especially the "Rorlanda" blouse (exclusive with this store). It is beyond criticism and courts high praise. It comes in delightful styles. Cut and finish recommend each model. Select from shirers, rayons, cottons. Tailored and frilly styles. See, too, the chic $1.98 blouses nearby.

BENSALEM GIRLS LOOK FORWARD TO SUCCESSFUL SEASON

Softball Team Will Have Seven Regulars To Return

LOSE GOOD MOUNDSMAN

Illness Causes Another Regular Player To Drop
Sports

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Apr. 4—With seven regulars back from last season, Coach Helen Smith is looking forward to another successful year in girls' softball at the Bensalem Township high school. However, whether this season's team will equal the record of that championship club of last year which went through the season undefeated, is a big question mark.

Coach Smith has lost a good pitcher, in Thelma Vandegrift, who was graduated last June. Vandegrift was victorious in several of the games last season and was dependable to hurl good ball when the going was the toughest.

Illness has caused another regular player to drop the sports at the institution on the Bristol Pike. She is Edith Stuhltrager, varsity four-letter girl, who has been out of sports since mid-basketball season.

At the present look-out Coach Smith is in need of a twirler and from all indications it appears as if Grace Van-Horn will get the nod. Grace played second base last season and also can throw them up to the batter, and if this conversion takes place, then Coach Smith can dig up a second-sacker from the fifty candidates who are reporting for the team.

Early next week, Miss Smith intends to cut her squad because her opening game is scheduled for the 9th and it is with none other than their arch rivals, Bristol.

Other left-overs from last season who appear to be certain of their positions are: Eleanor Hughes, catcher; Doris Ely, first base; Pauline Fries, shortstop; Doris Cribbler, shortstop; Dot Doyle, outfielder; Hazel Lamont, outfielder.

The team is managed by Dorothy Cairns, who also has two assistants.

SWEDISH ANGEL TO MEET CLAYBOURNE

TRENTON, Apr. 4—The best "natural" match that could be closed for tonight's wrestling fracas at the Arena is slated to bring together the Swedish Angel, the ugliest wrestler in the world, and Jack Claybourne, the South African jumping jack, in the feature attraction.

The Swede and Claybourne turned in exceptionally fine performances last Friday. It remained for the Swedish Angel to deflate the huge "blimp," Martin Levy. Levy, the 640-pound behemoth, downed Benny Rosen in two minutes in his first appearance, and in his second showing easily won the free-for-all. He was the most amazing sight ever to appear in the local ring, but the fans were definitely satisfied when the Swedish Angel removed him as a menace. It took the clever and capable Scandinavian just six minutes to accomplish the task.

Claybourne got himself a corking win when he downed the ponderous Felix Slovickowski. Few fans thought that Jack was capable of tossing the 260-pound Pole, but the classy African handled Felix like a master matman. The victory was exceedingly popular with the fans.

Don Evans, handsome Hungarian youngster, will return to the local arena after an absence of a year. He was one of the most popular grapplers ever to appear here, and his return will be hailed by his host of followers. He meets a newcomer, Sailor Barto
